

Your Data and the EDKPA.

To support our members, the EDKPA likes to send a regular newsletter via email and post. It also likes to send out other information in-between about important events/articles which are relevant to its members.

To do this, we must have your consent to do this under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) (2018), so ask that you complete this form (available on our website here).

Under the GDPR, the EDKPA is bound to treat your data under the following principles:

- Lawfulness, fairness, & transparency
- Accuracy
- Purpose limitation
- Data minimization
- Accuracy
- Storage limitation
- Integrity & confidentiality

You can ask us to delete your details from our membership list at any time. Please contact the secretary or email us (details below).

We do not share your data with any other organisation.

You can join us by completing the form online here.

You can fund further information about the act here

If you have any further queries about this, please contact our secretary (details below).

Thank you.

Jean Palin (Secretary, EDKPA)
